

2005 Pedro Acha Award for Veterinary Public Health

Nominati

Instructions: This form may be used to nominate an undergraduate research paper/thesis in veterinary public health prepared for a school of veterinary medicine and animal sciences in Latin America or the Caribbean. Please fill in all requested information. Send the completed form, a letter of introduction (no longer than one page) and the nominated research paper, which will not be returned, to the PAHO/WHO Representative in the country of the nominee: (<http://www.paho.org/English/PAHO/fieldoffices.htm>). Unsigned documents will not be considered.

Submitted items other than the letter, the completed application form and the research paper/thesis will not be considered by the jury. Nominations received after 29 April 2005 will not be accepted.

There is a strong preference for typed nomination forms.

Author Information
Author's name: Address: City: Country: Telephone number: E-mail address:
Institution and Nominator Information
Name of the institution for which the research paper was required: Name of institution's director/dean: Address: City: Country: Telephone number: E-mail address: Website:

Research Study/Thesis Information
Title:
Year:
Impact statement: In 250 words or less describe why this study deserves to win the Acha Award. Provide a detailed description highlighting the significance of this research for veterinary public health and the community or the region of the Americas.
Signature of Nominator:			Date:
Where did you learn about the awards program?
Website	Mailing	Journal announcement	List-serve/ e-mail announcement	Colleague